THE CONSCRIPT ACT .- There is naturally great dadre feit to enderstand the provisions of this act, One feature is very plain: "All white males butwoon eighteen and thirty-firs, subject to military duty, not now in service, are to be enrolled and mestered in, and courty the also regression. Another clause provides that "all persons who have been duly commissioned to raise distinguish all the arrangements. Directions have been new companies and regiments shall have thirty days in which to complete the organization of their respective corpa." It follows, then, that all persons not now in service have to chose between but two things: Either to be disc gave a newsboy a $10 bill in a mistake for ten attached to some regiment already organized—the weakcents, and received ten cents in exchange. Two swind - of regiments and the weakest companies in the regiment ere who remarked the error, which the boy had failed to being of course first filled up-or sailet within issenty shower, went to him and informed him of the mistake hays under some one who has been commissioned by the Screening of War to rules companies or regiments.
